DESCRIPTION

7a. Architectural style: Spanish Colonial Revival

7b. Briefly describe the present physical appearance of the site or structure and describe any major alterations from its original condition:

The structure consists of a long, low, single-story reinforced concrete building constructed on a rectangular plan and designed in a very minimalist Spanish colonial revival/commercial style. As with its neighbor at 7390 Monterey Street, the building helps provide a Spanish colonial revival touch to central Gilroy. The building, again like its neighbor, was also constructed originally as an automotive store. It is defined by large square apertures (consisting of plate glass windows and doors) which are separated by squared pillars. The area above the store front entries is unadorned plaster with small incised ornamental garlands. A line of red tiles defines the false front roof.

SIGNIFICANCE

19. Briefly state historical and/or architectural importance (include dates, events, and persons associated with the site.)

The building does not have the handsome spatial definition of its neighbor, yet it nonetheless reinforces the cohesive design elements of the city's commercial mode. The structure is in satisfactory condition and extends for a significant portion of the block.
